

Re: BPL

I encourage the FCC to not approve BPL. However; if it is approved I would recommend VERY stringent interference requirements to ensure BPL does not interfere with existing services such as radio. As an electrical engineer, I can all but guarantee you it will since the frequency is RF and the wires are nothing more than an antenna.